St. James's, September 2. The following Addreſs from the City of Dublin was preſented to his Majeſty by William Aldrich, Eſq; one of the Sheriffs of that City, introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Sunderland; and he had the Honour to kiſs his Majeſty's Hand.

To the KING's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin, at an Aſſembly held at the Tholſell of the ſaid City.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE are ſo deeply ſenſible of the unſpeakable Bleſſings, that we in common with your other Subjects do enjoy under your Majeſty's moſt auſpicious Government, as well as the late Marks of your Royal Favour in confirming to this City its antient Rights and Privileges, and of the Obligations we lye under, by the Oaths we have taken, to ſupport and defend your Majeſty and the Succeſſion in the Proteſtant Line, that we cannot but take the Opportunity which is given us by the intended Invaſion, to aſſure your Majeſty of our firm and unſhaken Loyalty and Adherence to your Majeſty, and your Royal Family; and to declare our utmoſt Abhorrence of the deſigned Attempt to advance a Popiſh Pretender to the Throne, which your Majeſty by ſo undoubted and rightful a Title, and with ſo much Glory is in Poſſeſſion of.

It fills us with Wonder and Aſtoniſhment, that there ſhould be the leaſt Ground to imagine, that any of your Majeſty's Proteſtant Subjects ſhould either encourage or aſſiſt in ſo traiterous and unnatural a Deſign, as that of betraying your Majeſty and their Country; and yet 'tis evident, that this Attempt could not at this Juncture be contrived and carried on (when your Majeſty appears at the Head of a Britiſh Parliament, who have given ſuch undoubted Proofs of their great Zeal and Affection for your Perſon and Government, and that you have the Advice and Aſſiſtance of ſuch an able, vigilant and faithful Miniſtry) unleſs ſupported and abetted by ſome of your Majeſty's rebellious Subjects at home; and we believe that the late Inſurrections and Rebellion in Great Britain have for that End been induſtriouſly fomented and encouraged by a reſtleſs Party, who have been long engaged in forming Deſigns to undermine and deſtroy our preſent moſt happy Eſtabliſhment, which theſe Nations at a vaſt Expence of Blood and Treaſure for many Years have ſtruggled and contended for.

We of this City account the Bleſſings of your Majeſty's Reign too valuable to omit any thing in our Power that may contribute to the Support and Defence of your Majeſty; and as we have already taken due Care to put the Laws in Execution againſt Papiſts, Non-Jurors, and other ſuſpected Perſons; ſo we will uſe our utmoſt Diligence in every other Reſpect to diſcharge the Truſt your Majeſty hath repoſed in us, for the Safety and Security of your Royal Perſon and Government.

And we humbly beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that as we have always ſhewn a hearty Zeal for the Proteſtant Succeſſion in your Royal Houſe in the

moſt perilous Times, ſo we will continue the ſame by a ſteady, conſtant Loyalty and Fidelity to your Majeſty's moſt ſacred Perſon and Government, and will with our Lives and Fortunes ſtand by and ſupport your Majeſty's rightful and undoubted Title to the Imperial Crown of theſe Realms, and the Succeſſion of your Royal Line, as the only Security of our Religion and Conſtitution in Church and State, againſt this helliſh Attempt and Conſpiracy; and againſt all others which may be made or formed by the Pretender, or any other of your Majeſty's Enemies at home or abroad, to deprive your Subjects of the ineſtimable Happineſs they enjoy under your Majeſty's moſt gracious Adminiſtration, and of the Fruits of the late happy Revolution. In Teſtimony whereof we have hereunto cauſed the common Seal of the ſaid City to be affixed this Eighth Day of Auguſt, 1715.

Ratisbonne, Sept. 2. N. S. Letters of the 8th of Auguſt from Adrianople ſay, that on the 25th of June the Grand Viſier encamped with his Army on the Gulph of Lepanto near Corinth. On the 26th the Siege of the Place was reſolved in a Council of War, for which Service a Body of Ten Thouſand Janiſaries were detached on the 27th under the Command of Achmet Baſhaw Begglerbeg of Rumelia. On the 28th the Grand Viſier ſummoned the Garriſon to Surrender with Offers of an honourable Capitulation, and Threats of putting all to Fire and Sword in Caſe of Reſiſtance; but the Proveditor returning a haughty Anſwer, Batteries were raiſed and begun to Fire the ſame Evening, which continued till the 2d of July tho' with little Effect; but Ladders and all other Preparations being then made for a Storm, the Governor capitulated on condition that the Garrison should march out with their Arms and Baggage, and be conducted to Corfu, and that the Inhabitants should be secured in their Liberties and Estates, tho' an unlucky accident defeated this Disposition. For some of the Turks having scaled the Walls in hopes of Booty, and in the Tumult Fire taking to some Powder which lay scatter'd, and wounding several of them, the Janisaries imputed it to the Treachery of the Venetians, and took this Occasion to plunder the Town, killing several and making the rest Slaves. The Garrison consisted of 400 Soldiers and 300 Inhabitants capable of bearing Arms. On the 9th of July the Grand Vifier broke up with the army from Corinth in hopes of being in five or six Marches before Napoli di Romania; and on the 28th an Aga arrived at Adrianople (whither he had been sent Express to the Grand Signor's Mother) with Advice that the Grand Vifier having discovered several Mines before Napoli di Romania, attack'd it with the utmost Vigour, and carry'd it by Storm on the 19th, putting the Garrison to the Sword except the Governor. Letters from Peterwaradin of the 17th of August say, great Rejoycings had been made by the Turks at Belgrade on the 9th for this Success, the Garrison there had been reinforced by 600 Janisaries. The Grand Signor was expected at Adrianople towards the end of August, and 'twas thought he would keep his Ramadam there.

all

Stockholm, Aug. 9. Admiral Baron Sparre has sent to the Princess and Senate the following Relation of the Engagement between the Swedish and Danish Fleets near the Island of Rugen on the 28th of July; written from on Board the Ship Gothick Lyon in Carlscrona Road the 3d Instant. On the 28th of July in the Morning our Scouts came in and made Signal that the whole Danish Fleet, consisting of 21 Ships of the Line of Battle and some Frigates, were with full Sail coming down towards us, upon which the Signal was given from the Admiral, that not only our Fleet should weigh and get under Sail, but that also the Ships which had their Station under Gripswald should forthwith draw into our Line. In the mean time the Enemy, who had the Advantage of the Wind, advanced with easy Sail towards us, so that about Two a Clock in the Afternoon the Cannonading was begun on both Sides, which continued without Intermission 'till after Eight a Clock in the Evening, when the Enemy stood close upon a Wind from us, setting their Course to the Northward, but our Fleet lay by 'till Twelve a Clock at Night, to stop the Ships Leaks, and repair the Damages we had received. When the Cononading was ended the Officers came on Board the Admiral, and gave an Account that the Hulls of their Ships were so damaged that they could not work them; that all their standing and running Rigging was mostly shot away, and that they had no sufficient Quantity of Powder and Shot left; wherefore as we had then Jasmont upon Rugen almost West of us, with little Wind at West North West, it was thought best to stand with an easy Sail to the Eastward. The next Morning, which was the 29th of July, we saw at Break of Day the Danish Fleet to the West of us, making all the Sail they could to the Westward; and as we could not with that Wind weather Bornholm, the Fleet was obliged to go to the Southward of that Island; and it was impossible for us with a Westerly Wind to go back to Rugen, seeing none of our Ships could carry any Sail, by reason their Masts and Rigging were shatter'd and spoiled; and as we were also in Expectation of receiving some Ships with Provisions from Carlscrona, under Vice-Admiral Philander's Convoy, we had the good Fortune the Day after to meet him 4 Miles to the Eastward of Bornholm: Whereupon the Admiral held a Council of War with all the Flag Officers and other Commanders to be informed of the Condition each Ship was in, and represented to them, that seeing he had now received a Supply of Provisions he was resolved to return to the Island of Rugen if the Wind should change, and if the Commanders judged themselves in a Condition to do his Majesty any further Service before the Ships were repair'd; upon which they all unanimously declared, that as it was their Duty, so they were willing and ready to sacrifice their Lives for the Service of their Sovereign, but that their Ships were not in a Condition to keep the Sea, or do the least Service, without being first repaired; and particularly the Ship Unity was found to be in such a Condition, that she could carry no Sail but must be towed home, having above 150 Shot in her Hull, besides 40 under Water; the Ships Oel, Gotland and Pomerania had already been obliged to seek Harbour, being so shatter'd and leaky at first that they were intirely useless. The Admiral Ship the Gothick Lyon has 140 Shot in her Hull and 10 under Water, so that she must be continually pump'd, besides that all our Masts, Rigging and Sails are so much shot thorough and in Pieces, that they are all unserviceable. That we received so many Shot under Water was occasioned by our Ships being all to the Leeward: The Enemy took Care likewise to keep at such a Distance, that we could hardly reach their Ships with our Cannon of 18 Pound-Ball, wherefore we could not do them any Damage with the Guns of our upper Tire, but were obliged to defend our selves as well as we could with our largest Guns. And this is the Reason, that in so long and violent a Cannonading we have lost but few Men; most of the Damage that is done having fallen upon the Hulls and Rigging of the Ships, there being only about sixty Men killed or wounded on board the Admiral, and the other Ships have only lost in Proportion. The Enemy had very heavy Cannon, and the Bullets from the Danish Admiral, which stuck in the Admiral's Hull, weigh'd upward of 36 Pound. In this Action both Admiral Henck and Admiral Lillie were kill'd, together with Captain Grother and Lieutenant Leerberg, and one Lieutenant only of the Land-Forces; but no Account is yet taken of the Number of Under-Officers and Seamen that are kill'd.
